

Julianna Lentini

4/13/13

You can see the smiles on our faces
As we sat down in front of the Christmas tree,
All dressed up in our fanciest clothes
Sitting together, (happiness.) <sup>would be stronger if</sup> "happiness" was its own line!

Holding my doll to my stomach like a baby.

I clothed her in her best dress.

My sisters found it funny,

But I didn't care, I loved her either way.

We were all so young,

And we have changed over time.

But, our love for each other remains

In the sparkle of our light brown eyes.

Our love for each sister will last a lifetime,

Sitting together, happiness.